1st. VOICE.
2nd. VOICE.
There is a charm more fair and bright Than Autumn's clear un_cloud_ed Tis seen within the ru_ral cot Where weary trav'ler's rest is sky,

giv'n,
And reigns in solemn
It lights the spotless
It cheers the soul it wakes delight And reigns in solemn Its radiance fires with golden thought It lights the spotless dig_ni_ty It cheers the soul it wakes delight And reigns in solemn dig_ni_ soul to heav'n Its ra_diance fires with gold_en thought It lights the spotless soul to dig_ni_ty soul to heav'n ty, And reigns in solemn dig_ni_ty 'Tis seen with_in the si_lent grave Heav'n, It lights the spotless soul to Heav'n 'Tis seen with_in the Hermits cell Where
Where

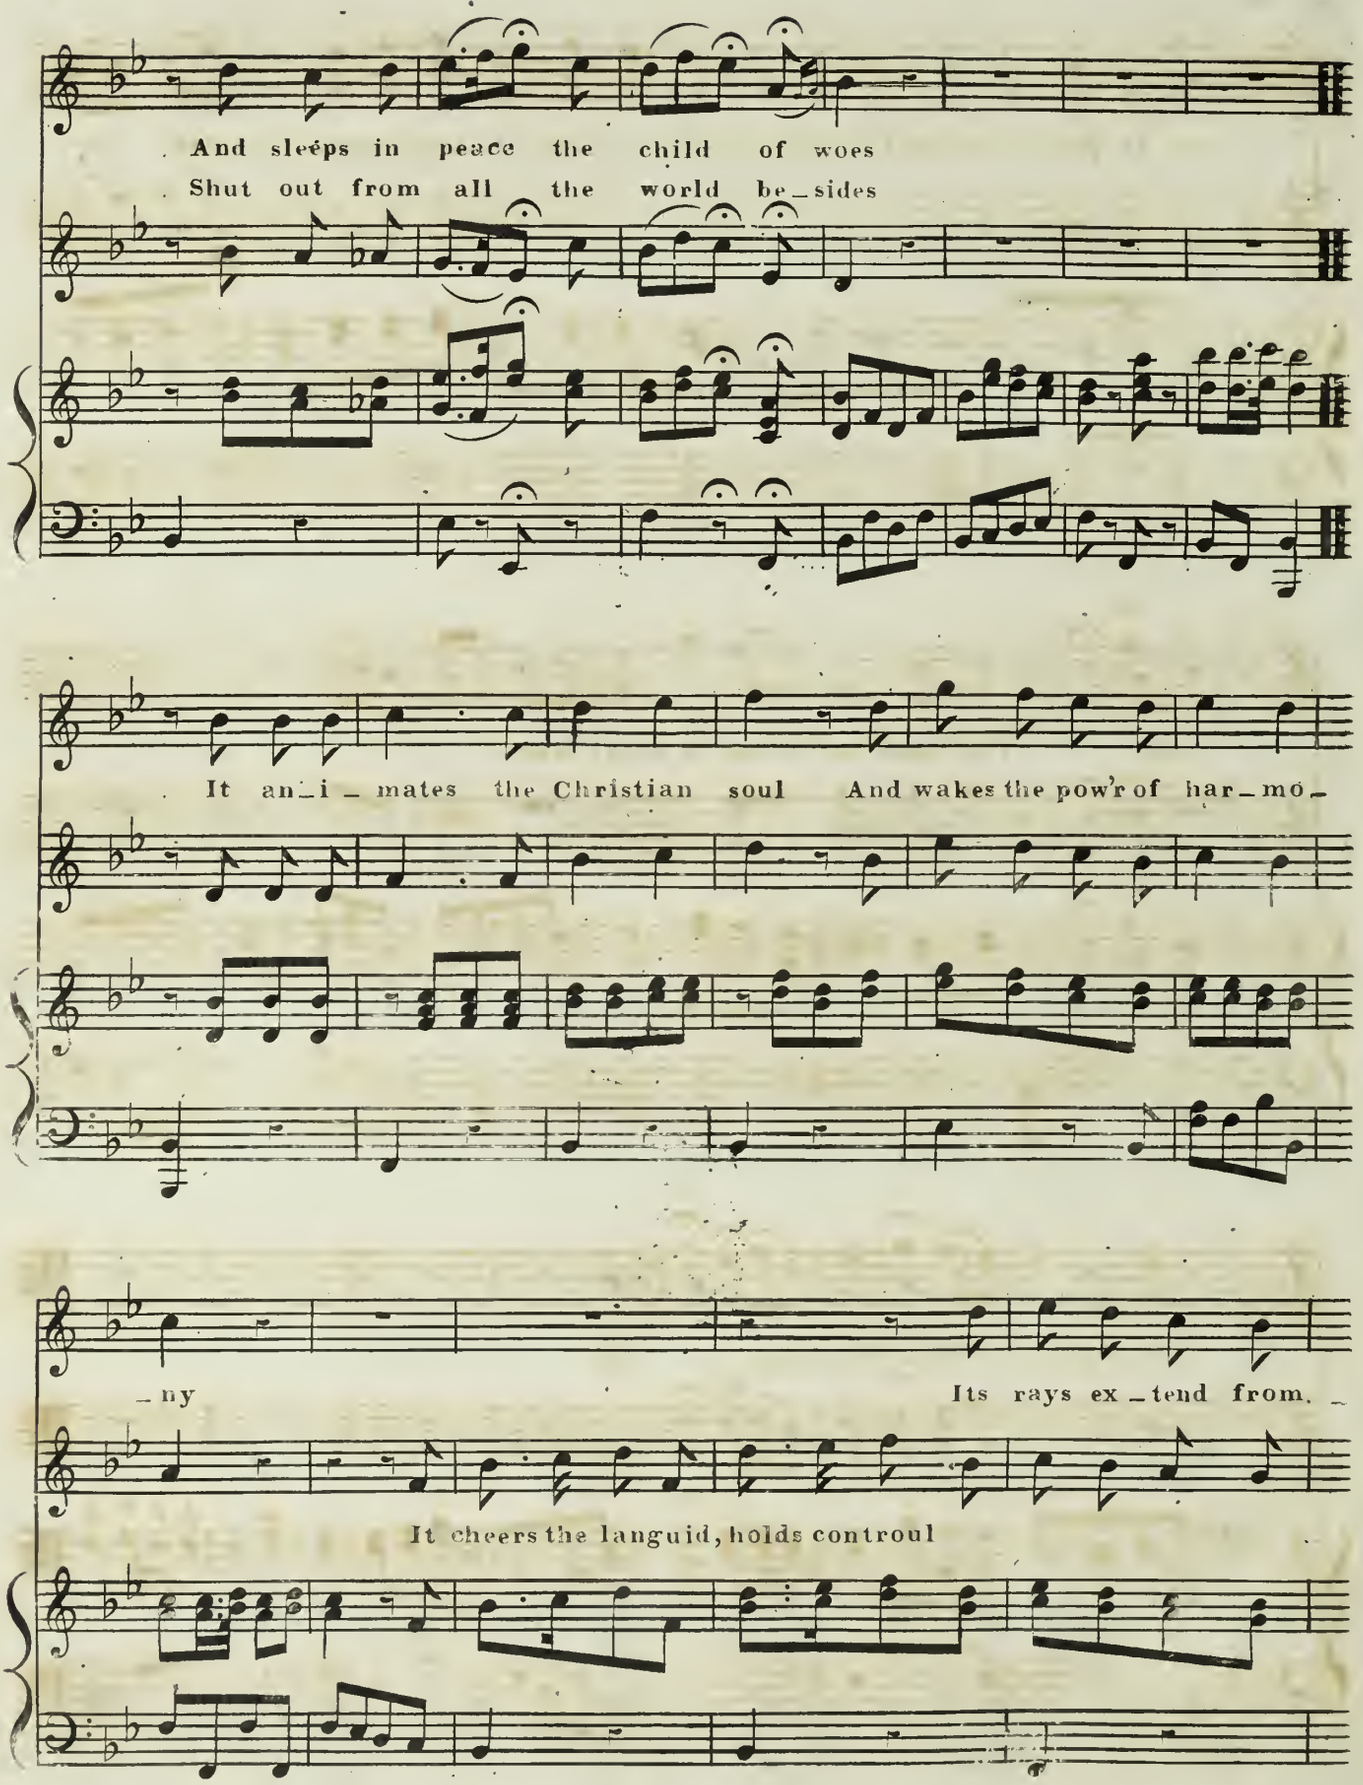
Where rest the rel_icks Where man des_pairing wea_ _ ry pil _ grims seek re_pose vir_ _ gin sol_ _ i _ tude pre_sides of the brave, And sleeps in peace the child of woes, loves to dwell, Shut out from all the world be_sides,
And sleeps in peace the child of woes,
Shut out from all the world be _ sides,



And sleeps in peace the child of woes
Shut out from all the world be_sides
It an_i_mates the Christian soul And wakes the pow'r of har_mo_ _ny
Its rays ex_tend from_ It cheers the languid, holds controul pole to pole, It cheers the languid, holds controul, Its rays extend from pole to
